Education

Hitotsubashi University, Japan, PhD student in Social Data Science — April 2026 - Present

- Social computational linguistics lab

University of Colorado Boulder, USA, Master of Science in Computational Linguistics — Aug 2023 - May 2025

- GPA: 3.953/4.0

China Agricultural University, China, Data Science and Big Data Technology Courses — Sept 2022 - June 2023

- GPA: 3.71/4.0
- undergraduate-level learning program

Nankai University, China, Bachelor of Arts in Japanese, Bachelor of Arts in World History — Sept 2018 - June 2022

- GPA: 3.69/4.0

Research Experience

Student Researcher under the U.S. National Science Foundation AI Institute for Student-AI Teaming (iSAT) at CU Boulder

Multimodal Educational AI Assistant — Oct 2024 - July 2025

- Leveraged multimodal signals (gaze, pose) to evaluate students' behavior engagement in class. Incorporated evaluation results into the AI assistant to provide instructional support.
- Demonstrated the behavioral engagement evaluation system at AAAI 2025 and the NSF site visit.

AMR (Abstract Meaning Representation) Graphs Retrofitting — July 2024 - Sept 2024

- Maintained and updated the AMR (Abstract Meaning Representation) graph knowledge base for information retrieval. Enhanced the educational AI assistant's responses by integrating retrieved curricular materials.

Research Interest

Computational linguistics: Computational phonology-morphology, computational semantics, and language parsing (AMR, dependency parsing, etc.).

Educational technology: Cognition-inspired educational AI, language technology for education, and multimodal analysis.

Neuro-symbolic AI: Formal reasoning and verification for LLMs, structured knowledge injection into neural models.

Skills

Natural Languages: English (fluent), Japanese (advanced), Mandarin Chinese (native)

Technologies: Python, C, C++, R, SQL, Numpy, PyTorch, Scikit-learn, Hugging Face, Docker
